

LOCAL OPTIONISTS' PET MEASURE LOST IN STATE SENATE

Juilliard Leads the Fight Against the Wyllie Bill and Gains a Signal Victory for the Wine and Hop Interests of His District.

The local optionists were given their quietus in the state senate last Monday when the Wyllie bill, one of the pet measures of the one-lungers of Southern California, who have located there to die and not to live, came up for passage.

The fight against the measure, which had already passed the assembly by a big majority, was led in the upper house by Senator Juilliard of this county and was a most valiant one. In his masterly effort to save his district from ruin, which the passage of the bill in the upper house would surely have accomplished, he was ably assisted in defeating this most vicious measure of the session by Senator Wolfe of San Francisco.

When the bill was taken up Senator Juilliard offered three sets of amendments. The first made the township and not the county the unit of local option.

The second provided a number of alternative propositions to be voted on. These included limiting the number of saloons; the fixing of license fees; the sale of liquors in quantities; the restriction of saloons to a certain distance from churches or public schools and the serving of liquor in hotels or restaurants.

The third provides protection for wholesale wineries in local option districts and provides that intoxicants may be sold in hotels or restaurants.

Juilliard made a lengthy argument in favor of the amendments, closing at noon. After the recess spoke against the bill as it stood and was followed by several in its favor. Hurd of Los Angeles was the only one from the south to oppose the assembly measure. The senate was crowded throughout the debate with friends and opponents of the bill.

Wyllie's assembly bill gave incorporated cities and towns the right to vote on the question of liquor while the rest of the county was a unit to vote wet or dry. The liquor men wanted the unit to be townships, so that each township could settle the question for itself, but the local optionists declared it would nullify the effect to have one township dry and the adjoining wet. The roll call resulted as follows:

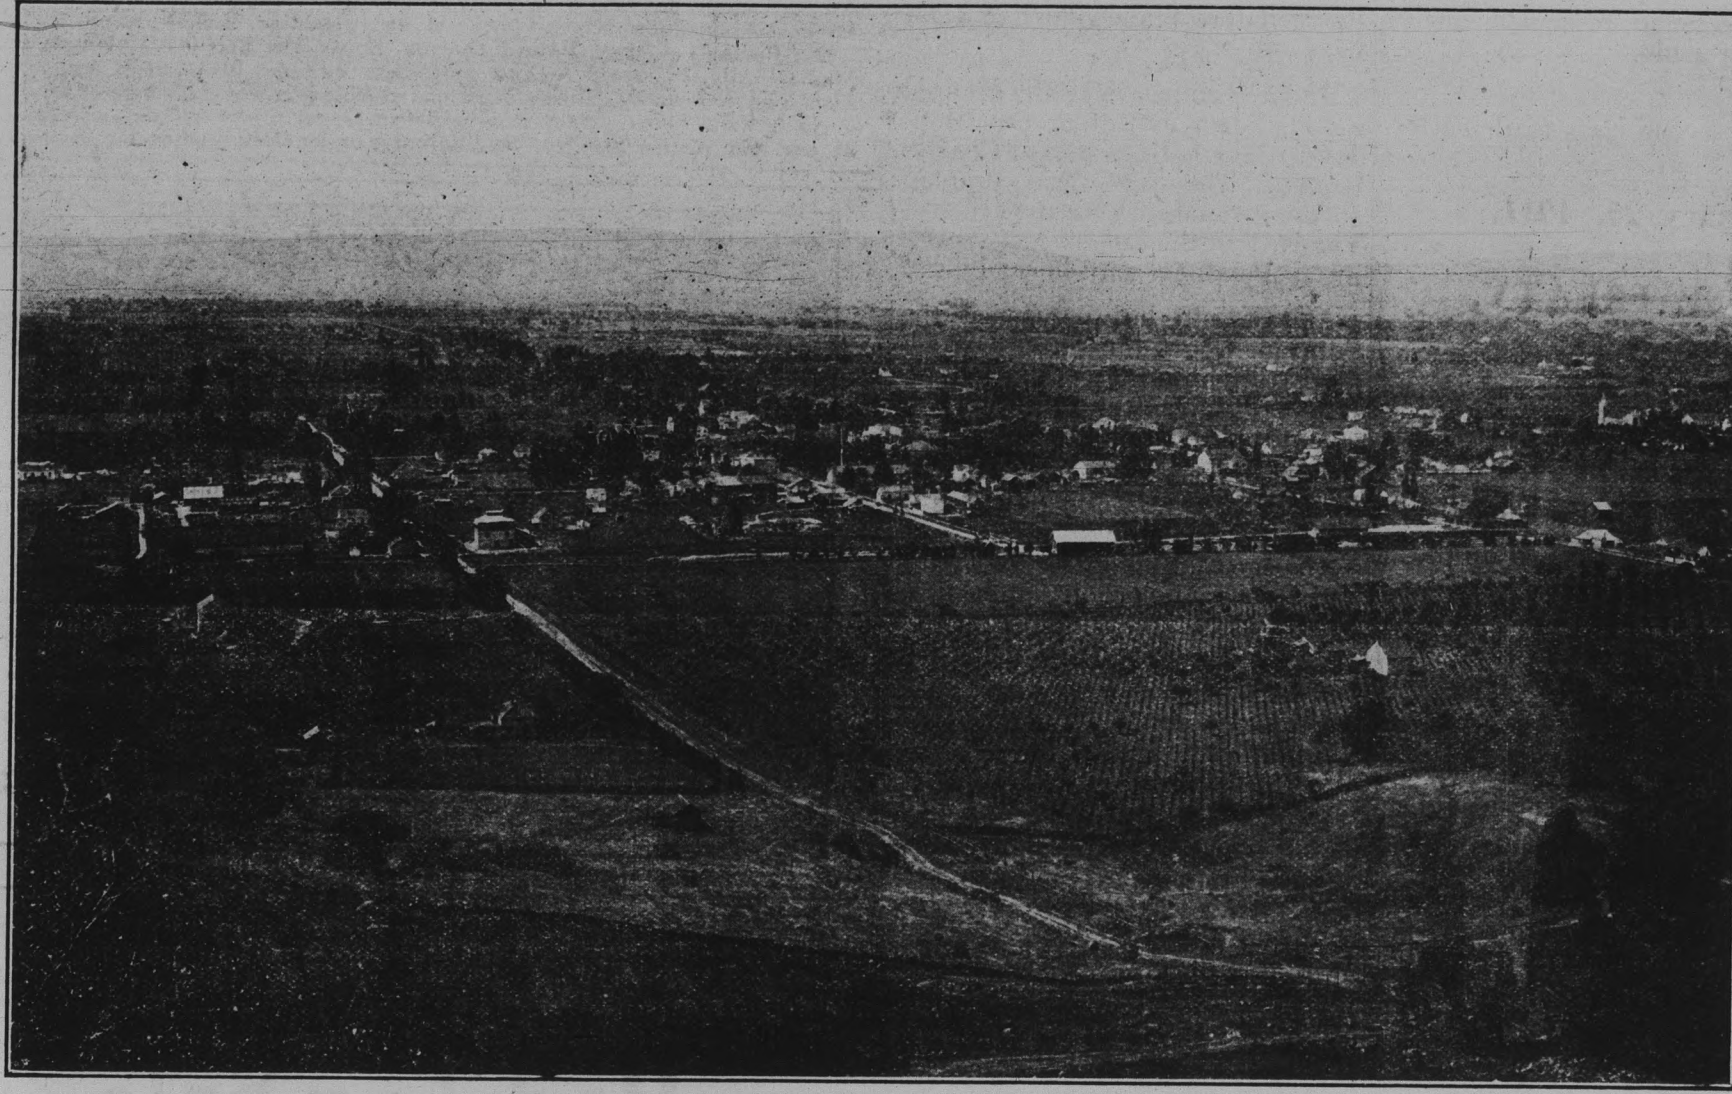

Aye—Beban, Bills, Birdsall, Bryan, Bennett, Caminetti, Cassidy, Curtin, Finn, Hans, Hare, Hollahan, Hurd, Juilliard, Martindale, Regan, Rush, Sanford, Stetson, Tyrrill, Welsh, Wolfe, Wright, total 23.

Noes—Avery, Bell, Black, Boynton, Campbell, Cartwright, Cuten, Estidello, Gates, Hewitt, Larkin, Lewis, Roseberry, Shannahan, Strowbridge, Thompson and Walker, total 17.

Will Be Many Grass Widows

There are now pending in the superior court of this county seventy-three actions for divorce, most of the plaintiffs being the wives of the mated couples. When it is taken into consideration that it is the rule, and not the exception, for five or six suits for divorce to be filed in our courts every week it is no wonder that there are so many crusty old bachelors and maiden ladies of uncertain age abroad in the land.

THE SONOMA VALLEY IS THE HOME OF THE "SIGH OF CONTENT"

A View of the Sonoma Valley Looking South From the Hills

The Sonoma Valley is the home of the Sigh of Content. No doubt there are other valleys in California in which the Sigh is heard—in fact they are scattered all over the state, but its original home is the Sonoma Valley.

Here the aborigines breathed it when they beheld the beauties and splendors of the landscape from the surrounding hills; here the Franciscan Fathers, in their journey beyond the outposts of civilization to spread the gospel of righteousness, halted, enchanted with the vision of peace and quiet and plenty, and remained, content in the thought that they were doing their Master's bidding and living in a valley which was His masterpiece. Envious, no doubt, of the content which pervaded the valley, the Spaniards wrested it from its original possessors and the Sigh of Content, which had been heard so many years, fled the valley only to return upon its acquisition by the Americans. From that happy time until the present it has remained enthroned in the valley.

A trip to the top of the hill from which the accompanying view was taken explains the reason for the Sigh's enthronement in the valley. A glimpse of the beauties and fertile acres which enchanted alike the aborigine, the Franciscan Father, the Spaniard and the American can be had.

Stretching away as far as the eye can reach the land is dotted with the homes of a happy, prosperous people. A great change has taken place since the early occupation of the valley by the Franciscan Fathers, a change for the better, we believe—who knows? but the Sigh of Content still lingers in the valley, and let us hope it has taken up its permanent abode here, and we have every reason to believe it has, for each year sees a more prosperous and a more happy people daily deeply breathing the Sigh of Content.

ASSESSOR DOWD APPOINTS DEPUTIES

J. C. Smith Retained as Chief Deputy—Mont Akers and Field Staff Reappointed

County Assessor Frank E. Dowd, with an eye to the efficiency of his office force, has reappointed his old deputies for the year 1911, as follows: J. C. Smith, chief deputy. Field deputies—Lester Brittain, A. Locke, Santa Rosa; J. T. Studdert, Petaluma; M. P. Akers, Sonoma; Frank Whitlatch, Penningsville; J. P. Kelly, Sebastopol; Robt. T. Kee, Bodega; W. E. Crigler, Cazadero; A. J. Carter, Windsor; M. N. Young, Healdsburg; S. R. Black, Geyserville.

The work of assessing begins at noon on Monday, March 6th. The work will be greatly complicated this year owing to the adoption of the constitutional amendment at the last general election which separates the state and county taxes. Every county assessor in the State will have to make a separate set of assessment rolls carrying the public service corporations for collecting taxes to meet outstanding county bonds and still another set for collecting the Panama-Pacific tax. This year the exposition tax is 6 per cent. In addition to this there will be the new assessment rolls on which the county taxes are based, which does not include the public service corporations. All this, Assessor Dowd explains, will make much additional work for both office and field deputies.

JACK LONDON NOT AN INSURRECTO

Says the Report of His Mixing in the Mexican Rebellion Is Without Foundation.

Jack London, the noted novelist, whom the newspapers reported as having taken a hand in one of the scraps between the insurrectos and the Mexican federal soldiery near the American boundary line on the Rio Grande, is now at his Glen Ellen home at work on a new novel.

The report of his being wounded and a prisoner of war in the hands of President Diaz' troops is without foundation, and was probably started from the fact that London was in Southern California during the exciting times on the Mexican border two weeks ago. He returned to his home in this valley last week.

London claims that he has a double roaming around the country and says that "the fellow who looks like me" has been frequently discovered posing under his name and it may be that this double of the well-known writer is the person alluded to in the newspaper dispatches. London asserts that during his sojourn in the southland he got no nearer to the boundary line between the United States and Mexico than Los Angeles, and that he never dreamed of mixing up in the affairs of the turbulent republic.

Colty to April 3.

Paulina Monico vs. Jack Fumagalli, cost bill reduced 75 cents.

William R. Barry vs. Thomas Barry et al., petition for partition granted.

N. B. Ferguson vs. Mary Perry, demurrer overruled, ten days to answer.

THE PROPOSED JAPANESE TREATY.

THE proposed new treaty between the United States and Japan has had a disquieting effect upon the people of the Pacific coast, who fear another Asiatic invasion should it be ratified and entered into by both countries. But have we not the assurance of President Taft, who stands sponsor for the new treaty which has been passed up to the United States Senate for its approval, that there need be no fear under its provisions of the west being invaded by an undesirable alien horde from the realms of the Mikado. Then, too, must be taken into account the fact that our own good Governor Johnson, after a careful scrutiny of its every provision, promised the President that California would not agitate against the Japanese and Chinese and would accept the proposed treaty without protest. This assurance of our Chief Magistrate, coupled with Governor Johnson's approval of the proposed new treaty, ought to have been soothing to our law makers at Sacramento, but as a matter of fact it has had a contrary effect upon some of the more wild spirits of the Legislature now in session at the State capital. Take for instance, Shanahan's frenzied speech in the upper house of that interesting body, the other day, when with a roar he dramatically shouted, "We'll send a message in thunder tones against the dark lantern methods of the government at Washington because the people of California will not stand for the domination of Eastern ideas by which Asiatics will be allowed to flock here." The Senator was evidently playing to the galleries when he shouted his defy, which we consider untimely if the assurances of the President of the United States counts for anything, backed up as they are by Governor Johnson, who, no matter what his faults may be, can certainly be depended upon to stand by the people of his State in their efforts to preserve California for the white race.

JOAQUIN MILLER, the aged "poet of the Sierras," is not going to die after all, much to the regret of those long-suffering people who know him best.

Death of Paul Nauman

M., Alameda, under whose auspices the funeral took place in that city Wednesday, the remains having been shipped to Alameda the day previous.

Fred. Poulson, our local son of Vulcan, was one of the visitors to Cloverdale on Wednesday. He made the trip in his man-killer over a road strewn with exploded automobile tires and human bones.

Mrs. Barbara Norrbom, accompanied by her attorney, Robert A. Poppe, appeared in person before Judge Denny in superior court last Monday, and having recovered from her illness of last fall was fully restored to competency.

A. Lutgens piloted a party of our well-known townspeople to the Cloverdale citrus fair in his big automobile Wednesday. Those composing the party were Sam B. Lewis, George Breitenbach, Gus Weyl, Charles Ruffner and Mr. Austin.

Mrs. Anna Smith (nee Hauto) was here from Pleasanton, Contra county, the fore part of the week on business connected with her Embarradero property. Mrs. Smith, who is the widow of the late Capt. Hauto, recently married a well known railroad man of Pleasanton and is living in very comfortable circumstances in that place.

Mr. and Mrs. McLeod left for Francisco Sunday evening. Mr. McLeod has been connected with the Model Drug Store since its purchase from Dr. Eastland by its present proprietor, James McElroy, and he and his estimable wife have made many friends here who regret their departure.

Agua Caliente "Injun" on The War Path

Joe Cruz, an aborigine who lives in the vicinity of Agua Caliente, after indulging in liberal potations of wine which had been illegally sold to him by parties who may yet have to answer for the crime, went on the war path Sunday and assaulted Carribean Sears, a fellow tribesman, with a pocket knife. After being cut across the bridge of the nose and receiving a stab under the left arm pit Sears managed to get out of harm's way and making his way into town swore out a warrant for the arrest of his assailant. The warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Ryan, who took the offending Indian into custody on Monday and landed him in jail here pending a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Campbell.

Owing to the dullness of the weapon the injured man's wounds were not serious and when the case was called Thursday he was able to appear against his assailant who was found guilty of simple assault and sentenced to serve four months in the county jail. District Attorney Clarence Lea was present on behalf of the state. Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan took his prisoner to Santa Rosa Thursday afternoon and lodged him in jail to serve out his sentence.

Woman's Club Notes

Friday of last week a very interesting paper was read before the Woman's Club by Miss Florence Murphy on the growing movement throughout the United States concerning consolidation of schools. Experience is proving the value of this system in increasing the efficiency of the central school and promoting the health and general welfare of the children, who are transported free of charge between home and school. The annual meeting will be held next Friday.

Band Boys' Ball

The ball given in Union Hall on the evening of Washington's birthday by the Sonoma Valley Band was a decided success. The affair was largely attended by the younger set of the valley, between fifty and seventy-five couple being present. The dance music was furnished by a full brass band of twenty-four pieces, and the dancers pronounced the time perfect. It was nearly three o'clock Thursday morning when the band boys played "Home, Sweet Home."

Congregational Services

Regular services will be held at the Congregational church Sunday morning conducted by Rev. Mr. Dawson of Berkeley. In the evening the pulpit will be occupied by Rev. T. H. Lawson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Northern California. Mr. Lawson is a forcible and interesting speaker and will speak on a topic of vital importance to all.

The game of basket ball played in Union Hall on last Friday evening between the Sonoma Independents and the Lick High School of San Francisco was won by the former by a score of 17 to 23. Fred Duhring refereed for the home team and the visitors brought Edgar Rush as their referee. Dancing followed the game.

Considerable opposition to the removal of the postoffice from its present location on one of the most prominent corners in town to the new Odd Fellows' building on Broadway is being manifested, and it looks as though the projected removal will lead to the liveliest sort of a row before the thing is ended. However, the affair is no funeral of ours, as we have troubles of our own.

One of the great inducements offered the prospective settler in the valley is the easiness with which a living can be obtained. Ten acres, properly planted and cultivated, will keep an ordinary family in comfort and even plenty. Water—that great necessity to California farming—can be obtained in artesian flow in depths varying from 100 to 200 feet, and the rainfall is sufficient in itself to produce a crop.

The City Installing High Pressure Fire Hydrants

J. G. Marcy & Son, who have the contract for installing eleven new fire hydrants to connect with the Lewis high-pressure water system, commenced installing this week. At the present time the first two of these hydrants are being erected on the southeast corner of the plaza opposite the Duhring corner and the other opposite the Castex building on Napa street. The other nine will be equally distributed about the business and residence sections of the town. The work is being done by the city trustees, who aim to give the city the best possible protection from fire and a consequent reduction of insurance rates. The work will be carried out on these lines as rapidly as the finances of the municipality will permit.

Thrown From Wagon And Instantly Killed.

Peter Mathison, a farmer living between Petaluma and Two Rock, was thrown from his wagon seat late Friday night of last week. The accident happened two miles from the former place at the Corliss bridge crossing and when his body was discovered it lay in about a foot of water.

There were no eye-witnesses to the accident, but a careful inspection of the surroundings proved that Mathison met his death by the front wheels of the wagon hitting a washout in the road at the end of the bridge, while driving at a fast pace. The unfortunate rancher was evidently thrown over the low railing of the bridge head first into the stream. Being stunned by the fall he lay face downward in the water and was suffocated.

Tricking a Game Warden.

When a game warden bought seven pounds of meat and paid a dollar a pound for it he thought he was getting some pretty convincing evidence against a man in Berkeley county whom he supposed to be a chronic violator of the game law. The protector found this particular piece of meat in an icehouse one hot August day, and he spotted it for venison.

"What will you take for that chunk of meat?" he asked the owner. "That's a tender piece of meat," replied the woodsman, with a wink at the stranger, "and meat is dear way back up here. I wouldn't part with it for less 'n a dollar a pound."

"Well, give me a pound." "Nope; couldn't do that. It would split the piece for cookin' to do that."

The game warden had to take the whole thing, and he paid $7 for it, satisfied that he had caught one of the worst game law violators in the Adirondacks. Down to Albany he sent the meat for the forest, fish and game commission to analyze to prove it venison. But it wasn't. It was veal. The backwoodsman told the story as one of the best jokes ever played on a game protector.—New York Tribune.

Columns of St. Mark.

Two memorable granite columns, known as the columns of St. Mark, brought from the Holy Land in 1120 and standing in front of the quay and landing steps of the Palazzo della Dogana, have been associated with the fortunes of Venice for many years. At first they lay prostrate for a long time, while no one would undertake to raise them. But a reward offered by the doge at length induced one Nicolo Barratiero (Nick the Blackleg) to offer his services. He succeeded and claimed as his reward the privilege of carrying on between the columns games of chance, elsewhere prohibited by law. To neutralize this as much as possible it was enacted that all public executions should take place on the same spot. One column is surmounted by the Lion of St. Mark. The other carries a fine figure of St. Theodore, the patron saint of the city, who stands upon a crocodile and with sword and buckler gives token that the motto of Venice is "Defense, Not Defiance."

Montevideo English.

A letter from a concern in Montevideo, South America, to a Chicago firm:

"My dear sir: We know you ask for agents. We can offer you this. Our office has the representation many articles we can offer the representation yours. We ought to know you; we have placemen and gadders whose business is only to sell our articles. Our business is diffused till some Brazilian villages; where the American articles are worth of the highest attention. Our mind is the best middle for the news is the best middle for the know; all things; and we don't stop in middles for its circulation; we have decided the approach of the Commercial Review next issue where you can be fellow laborers; and we with no one expenditure; that is; to say always; you dispense us any cassines."

We like "gadders," as applied to traveling men, don't you?—Chicago Tribune.

He Found His Man.

Englishmen are rather fond of poking fun at those parts of Great Britain where other than the Anglo-Saxon element is dominant, and a favorite subject for jest is the prevalence of the Jones family in Wales. One of the colleges of Oxford university was much resorted to by Welshmen. A man from another college looking for a friend went into its quadrangle and shouted, "Jones!"

All the windows looking on the quadrangle flew open.

"I mean John Jones," said the searcher.

Half the windows closed.

"I mean the John Jones who has a toothbrush," he explained.

All the windows closed but one.—Topeka State Journal.

A Stitch of Pain.

A stitch is a sharp, spasmodic pain in the muscles of the side like the piercing of a needle and is very apt to be produced if exercise is taken immediately after a hearty meal. This arises because the nervous energy necessary for the proper working of the muscles in exercise is engaged in another direction—namely, in assisting the digestion of the food. Anything that interferes with the proper supply of nervous energy required for exercise, whether it be debility or the process of digestion or exhaustion arising from overexertion, is apt to cause this spasmodic pain.

Adam's Sister.

The palm tree has always been venerated wherever it grows; in some places it is worshipped. "Honor the palm tree," says a Mohammedan writer, "for she is your father's aunt, for this tree was formed of the remainder of the clay from which Adam was created."

The Tombigbee.

"Do you know the origin of the name of the Tombigbee river?" asked the well informed man. "Well," he went on, "it is Choctaw, every syllable, only the word is not 'Tombigbee'; it is 'Tom-bi ik-bi' two words, the 'i' being short in each instance. Long ago Choctaws inhabited the section now embraced within the states of Mississippi and Alabama and traversed by the stream that song was about. Nearly a century ago a white man—a carpenter—came among the Indians. He lived on the banks of the stream and among other things made rude coffins for burials. Indians at that time 'buried' their dead upon an arbor supported by poles, but they gradually came to the white man's custom of burying in earth and went to the white man's carpenter to get their boxes. From this incident, I am told, the stream received its name, 'Tom-bi' meaning box and 'ik-bi' meaning make or maker, only they added the word 'bok,' which signifies river or creek, so, literally translated, the combination means 'the river where lives the man that makes boxes.' Time as well as the Anglo-Saxon disposition to round corners in pronunciation Anglicized 'Tom-bi ik-bi' into 'Tombigbee'—Wichita Eagle.

The Uplift Movement.

When he left the house Saturday morning Burton yanked at the door as if he would pull it off its hinges. When he couldn't open it he started to grumble until his wife came to his assistance.

"What'n blue blazes is the matter with this door?" he grumbled, giving it another powerful yank without being able to open it.

"The trouble with you, John, dear," the wife ventured, "is that you are always down on everything—down in the mouth, down on the world. Let me try it."

With a gentle tug upward on the knob she easily opened the door.

John was about to sputter out a sarcastic remark when the force of his wife's logic sank in his thick skull.

"I get it!" he exclaimed. "I get the lesson."

That afternoon when his wife visited his office she saw over his desk a little motto with the words, "Me For the Uplift."—Youngstown Telegram.

A Sign of a Crowd.

A very fat, puffing, elderly woman stepped up to the box office of the Chestnut Street theater and, placing a coin on the ticket window, said:

"Give me a ticket to the gallery."

"You are at the wrong window, madam," said the ticket seller. "The gallery ticket office is to your left as you go out of the door."

The old woman walked down the steps and, advancing a few feet, glanced around inquiringly and then let her gaze wander to the iron fire escape which was suspended above the sidewalk.

Going back to the main box office, she said:

"Say, me boy, Oi can't get in there; it's crowded."

"Crowded?"

"Sure, it must be," she said. "They have the steps pulled up!"—Philadelphia Times.

With an Eye to the Future.

"It would probably take many generations of adversity to train Americans into the farseeing thriftiness of my people," once observed an American of Scotch birth. "I remember a case of a Scotchwoman who had been promised a new bonnet by a lady. Before she undertook the purchase the lady called and asked the good woman:

"Would you rather have a felt or a straw bonnet, Mrs. Carmichael?"

"Weel," responded Mrs. Carmichael thoughtfully, "I think I'll tak' a strae ane. It'll maybe be a mouthful to the coo when I'm done w' it!"—Lippincott's.

Crockett's Revenge.

There is a story of Crockett of "Stickett Minister" fame to the effect that when he offered his first volume to a Scotch firm it was returned with a polite note assuring him that there was no market for that sort of thing. The letter was marked "No. 396b." In later years when the same publishers asked him for one of his manuscripts he politely requested them to refer to their previous correspondence with him marked "396b."

One of Tom Hood's Last Jokes.

Shortly before his death, being visited by a clergyman whose features as well as language were more lugubrious than consoling, Hood looked up at him compassionately and said, "My dear sir, I am afraid your religion doesn't agree with you."

Planche's Reminiscences.

Force of Habit.

A street conductor who recently embraced religion was called upon to take up the Sunday morning offering. He did very well until he came to a boy. "Young man," he said sternly, "you will have to pay half fare."

Stopping it. "Willie," said his mother, "are you making the baby cry?" "No'm," replied the boy. "I'm holdin' my hand over her mouth to make her stop."

Caustic.

Mr. Flubb—This affair is horribly dull. I guess I'll go home. Miss Clip—That would remove some of the dullness. Mr. Flubb.—Chicago News.
